music and lyrics ©2003 Jesse Moore

Intro: Emin Amin Emin

Amin

I didn't know what I was gettin' into

Emin

Should 've turned away instead

Amin

All I know is when I saw her standing there

Emin

Couldn't stop from pushin' straight ahead

Amin

Lips were red, hair was long

Emin

The kind of body that could make a good man do wrong

Amin

Lovin' her would be a big mistake,

Emin

F

A mistake that I would surely make

G F C

She was the wrong kinda woman

G F C

The wrong kinda woman

My head was swimmin' and my knees were weak
I stuttered and stammered when I tried to speak
She took my hand and walked me out the door
She took my home and threw me on the floor
She was dangerous, her love was fabulous
She was the wrong kinda woman
The wrong kinda woman

Woke up half dead, I was all alone
An empty bottle by the telephone
Under her pillow was a .44 Magnum
Should I stay? Should I run?
She was dangerous, her love was fabulous
She was the wrong kinda woman
The wrong kinda woman
